

The diagram shows a business card layout with various lines and dimensions. A red dashed line represents the bleed area, extending 1/8 inch (0.125 inches) from the edges. A blue line represents the safety line, which is the final size of the card (9x3 inches). Two green lines represent the fold lines, dividing the card into three equal sections. Arrows indicate the direction of the lines and the fold. The background features large, stylized, light gray letters spelling out 'BUSINESS CARD'.
