SAINT NICHOLAS: ORIGIN STORIES

Many people recognize the mythological Coca Cola Santa Claus with his hearty frame, jolly red suit and puffy white beard that brings gifts to children, yet they forget about his origin as a real man: Saint Nicholas.

Saint Nicholas was a bishop of Myra in the 4th century and was known himself for the giving of gifts as well as many miracles, such as raising people from the dead. He truly cared for all people and is known for helping sailors, young maidens, and children. He became known for his abundant mercy, providing for the poor and needy, and delivering those who had been unjustly accused.

No less was he known for his zeal for the truth.

At the First Council of Nicaea he out of love for God and in disagreement with Arius, struck him. A normally completely out of line action, especially for a bishop, brought swift punishment and removal from his position. This was however temporary, as while in the jail cell, by divine appointment he was reinstated.

Modern Santa Claus with his 'miraculous' navigation of the globe pales in comparison to the holy life lived by St. Nicholas. His care for the poor, his compassion for the youth, and his unwavering faith that God can heal are examples to all of holy living and are rightly remembered to this day.

During this Christmas season, take a moment to remember, reflect, and imitate a man that understood charity.

OTHER CHRISTMAS TRADITIONS

Did you know St. Nick is also responsible for the origin of stockings and chocolate coins in gold foil?

His generosity to an old man and his three daughters was shown by covertly throwing a stocking full of gold coins into the house at night, sheltering them from destitution.
