BRINGING THE SUMMER HEAT AT CHILI FEST

-AUSTIN CORDS

This year we helped sponsor the 15th annual Arlington Chili Cook Off. Having a booth at the event was an exciting experience, filled with the passing out dragon stickers to gleeful youth, price quotes, and a bit of antique car exploration. The most common question I was asked at the event was: "Are you local?" and I was proud to state that we are and have been for over thirty years. This question is a high value question. Being local really means being accessible, personal, and fast. One of the people at the event later came to our store, he was amazed that he could come in, see his project, and call our company and immediately get answers on pricing or changes. The personal touch is invaluable. Overall it was a joy to be able to converse with local Riverside people at the event and know that in a small way I helped make their day special. The event was great with over 300 of our printed pieces reaching your hands.

GRADUATION TIME!

-AUSTIN CORDS

Every summer a new group of people complete their formal educational journey, and for my brother Josh, he graduated last week with a Bachelor of Computer Science. I was proud to see him walk and know the work he committed to for so many years is finally complete. Somehow he strove and accomplished excellence in all areas of his life; he sought out job opportunities and internships that tested his skills during school while simultaneously maintaining responsibilities at his church, and even taking on IT projects that he didn't need to. I couldn't be prouder of him. Congratulations to any of you that get to share in that same joy of a completed educational chapter in life.

UPCOMING 140TH ANNIVERSARY MUSIC EVENT

When I first heard about this event, I was amazed that anything in Riverside was 140 years old. In fact, the Riverside Concert Band has been around longer than Riverside has been incorporated, with their first show celebrating the Centennial of America in 1876. The band is comprised of community members who play woodwind, brass or percussion instruments, and performs in the "traditional" concert band style. In recent years, the band has diversified and now presents a swing ensemble, which accommodates a variety of additional venues.

Go enjoy this free event on June 24th from 4:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. at Villegas Park (3091 Esperanza St Riverside, CA 92504).
