

WHAT WARMS OUR HEART

-AUSTIN CORDS

At Printing Connection, Inc. just after closing time, you might hear the joyful shouts of my daughter saying “Daddy!” as she romps towards my desk for a hug. Regardless of how my day has been, it at that moment gets better. My daughter’s love for me is something that cannot be duplicated or replaced by something else. Her trust and love is a special contribution to the family, and is cherished by both me and my wife. Moments like these give me a glimpse into how amazing Mother’s Day is, and how important it can be to take a moment and celebrate the honorable duty of being a mom. Being a mom on this day isn’t about the fluff and poofiness of flowers and presents, but about celebrating the unique bond that only a mother and child can share. It is about all the moments, the good, the bad and the ugly. It is about growing together, leading the child to be excellent while being there each step of the journey regardless of who slips up. To all moms, may your Mother’s Day be superb.

“Being a mom on Mother’s Day isn’t about the fluff and poofiness of flowers and presents, but about celebrating the unique bond that only a mother & child can share.”

GLITZ AND GLAM

-AUSTIN CORDS

Though I am not much for glitter a few recent projects came across my desk that showcase the capacity glitter has to enhance a product. Above you see my daughter jumping for joy after getting a glitter shirt with our mascot on it, and in our project spotlights you can see the All Star Production’s Glitter Castle Shirts. Neither of these pictures can convey the beauty of the sparkle and the variation of shine that glitter brings to the image, but the product speaks for itself, well actually other people do. There has been such a hubbub among employees about this new material that even Jack has joined in on wanting to get his own glitter shirt. The best part? They print in any color with no flaking because the glitter is sealed in.
